

Elena Frantova

Masters CS student

Concordia University

Elena completed her BFA in Computational Arts and is currently enrolled in Master's program in Computer Science at Concordia University. She is exploring responsive environments, treating them as means to explore various levels of awareness.